Can't Live Alone? Need to Move?

Your elderly friend or parent can no longer live alone or has passed suddenly. Moving your loved one and emptying their home is difficult and emotionally draining. You are busy, overwhelmed and have your own family. Welcome to the eldercare dilemma!

Lower East Side native, Marilyn Karpoff has been guiding senior citizens and their families, especially those with a limited support system, as they face transition decisions on eldercare, where to live and how to manage the move. In most cases, a family member, partner or guardian is left to the emotional task of emptying a home and is unsure of where to turn for help. That's where Moving On NYC comes in. Moving On NYC works closely with family members to manage all of the details involved to empty the residence.

"During my 30 years in real estate, I have managed the transitioning and relocation of hundreds of seniors. I treat them the way I treat my 92-year-old mother - with dignity and respect," said Ms. Karpoff, a certified speech pathologist and audiologist, as well as a licensed Real Estate Broker and President of Karpoff Affiliates, Inc.

Marilyn helps families through the emotional minefield of a sudden loss and has rescued hundreds of pets. Through Moving On NYC, she is providing a much needed service – the caring transition of the elderly during their time of need.
